97 ADM-2 95 INF-10			SSL 473.5 Penal Law 260.25, 260.30, 260.32, and 260.34

The purpose of this release is to inform local districts of recent amendments to the Penal Law concerning crimes against physically disabled and vulnerable elderly persons. Local district Protective Services for Adults (PSA) staff need to be aware of these amendments since they are required, under SSL 473.5, to report to the police whenever they suspect that a criminal offense has been committed against a person being assessed for or receiving PSA. The amendments were enacted by Chapter 381 of the Laws of 1998 and took effect on November 1, 1998.

Section one of the recently enacted law expands the crime of Endangering the Welfare of an Incompetent Person (Penal Law Section 260.25) to include physically disabled persons. As amended, a person is guilty of this crime if he or she knowingly acts in a manner likely to be injurious to the physical, mental or moral welfare of a person unable to care for himself or herself due to physical disability, mental disease or defect. The crime remains a class A misdemeanor.

Sections four and five of the law establish new felony crimes of "Endangering the Welfare of a Vulnerable Elderly Person" in the second and first degree (Penal Law Sections 260.32 and 260.34). These laws significantly increase penalties where a person who is a caregiver assaults or sexually abuses a vulnerable elderly person in his or her care

Penal Law section 260.30 defines a caregiver as a person who:

- * assumes responsibility for the care of a vulnerable elderly person pursuant to a court order; or
- * receives monetary or other valuable consideration for providing care for a vulnerable elderly person.

This definition may include guardians, licensed or certified home health care providers, private care providers, acquaintances or family members who may be receiving money or "other valuable consideration" for the care they provide.

Penal Law section 260.30 also defines a vulnerable elderly person as a person sixty years of age or older who is suffering from a disease or infirmity associated with advanced age and manifested by demonstrable physical, mental or emotional dysfunction to the extent that the person is incapable of adequately providing for his or her own health or personal care.

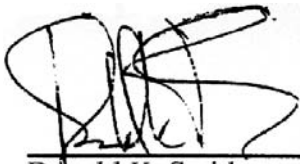

A violation of Penal Law section 260.32, a class E felony, occurs, for example, when a caregiver assaults such an elderly person causing physical injury, or exposes such person to unwanted sexual contact. A violation of Penal Law section 260.34, a class D felony, occurs, for example, when an assault by a caregiver results in serious physical injury to a vulnerable elderly person.
